

PART OF THE SATURDAY TALKS SERIES

TALKING OBJECTS

14 JANUARY 2012

12.30-1.00 PM

'Every Man his Own
Doctor': A Social and Material History of the Irish Domestic Medicine

Chest, c.1800-c.1840

Emma O'Toole

11 FEBRUARY 2012

12.30-1.00 PM

'Green-Coated
Irishmen'
-The National Army
Uniform from

1922 to 1939

Hannah Mullan

10 MARCH 2012

12.30-1.00 PM

Limerick Gloves
-A Curious
Case of Leather Craftsmanship,

1780-1840

Liza Foley

museum

National Museum of Ireland
Ard-Mhúsaem na hÉireann

Decorative Arts & History

MA Design History & Material Culture

Taking place on the second Saturday of January, February and March, this series of talks is designed to showcase fascinating new research on objects within the National Museum collection. All talks will be given by graduates of the MA Design History & Material Culture at the National College of Art and Design. All talks will take place in the National Museum of Decorative Arts and History, Collins Barracks. Please meet at 12.15pm at Main Reception.

All talks are free of charge. For further information contact bookings@museum.ie or Dr Anna Moran, morana@ncad.ie (Coordinator of the MA Design History & Material Culture, NCAD)